

Don't Drink the Water (Fraser and Debolt)

Well the government welcomed them into town, they said it's good for the economy They promised us jobs and pension plans and it seemed to good to believe But times were tough and we didn't know what the company planned to do All I could think of was keeping my place and the bills that were overdue

Don't drink the water, it's no good anymore
Filler up with poison, then they closed the door

Well they set up on a hillside, the smokestacks filled the sky
With yellow smoke that smelled like death but nobody seemed to care
They built a pipeline to the lake, 10 feet underground And late at night they'd open her up and it flowed without a sound

Don't drink the water, it's no good anymore
Filler up with poison, then they closed the door
The fish are heavy with lead, and mercury and the sign that said
Don't drink the water, its so sad to see

Solo

(-Bridge-)

There was a fishin' hole just down the road where I went to as a kid

You could see all the way to the bottom, had rocks where the big ones hid

Nowadays, there ain't nobody home, just a sign that warns you off

Don't drink the water, its so sad to see

Filler up with poison, then they closed the door

The fish are heavy with lead and mercury and the sign that said

Don't drink the water, its so sad to see
